

MANIFESTATION OF PEACE

«War is curable» From my point of view the Troika: «Church, Politics and Trade» is responsible for the fact that most people believe that evil belongs to being human and therefore war is inevitable. According to my findings the powerful forces of society control and manipulate us systematically and strategically in our thinking and acting since the Flood. Church (religion) Politics (money, education and war) Trade (drugs, prostitution and weapons). This trio has used the terms in brackets to sow fear, mainly about child abuse, rape of women and all forms of hidden and direct violence and cruelty, and to anchor resulting traumatizations in our society, with the clear aim of exploiting us for their purposes.

We, as free citizens, have thus been kept in captivity and slavery for millennia, deprived of our inner peace and the experience of our immortality. As a financial industry, capitalism has further intensified these fears through crises and exploitation and anchored capitalism as a new religion.

Since the Flood, according to the Bible, the average human age has fallen 8-10 times, and in the two thousand years between it and today it has been even lower. According to the Bible, Noah lived to be 900 years old and begat his sons at the age of 500. 100 years later, when Noah was 600 years old, the Flood came. – All the holy scriptures tell us of long gone golden ages of peace and harmony, in which people have grown many times older in full health (inexplicable 20,000 - 80,000 years). Yogic records tell of times when most people practiced yoga and meditation and lived in a higher state of consciousness.

War is not a historical constant or recurring natural behavior of man. – I am just as convinced as the German peace activist and psychoanalyst Eugen Drewermann that it takes a division of the human psyche for a human being to become a murderer. Traumatization causes the injured part of our psyche to split off, and we continue to live with a pseudo-self, a reduced and diseased ego part. If we want peace, we must therefore uncover and heal these traumatizations.

A successful method was developed by the Munich psychologist Prof. Dr. Franz Ruppert, who is specialized in traumatization. On Rubikon, a YouTube video channel that advocates a peaceful and environmentally conscious society, Psychologist Franz Ruppert and Historian and Peace Researcher Daniele Ganser have expressed their views on the current political and social situation in a detailed interview with the editors under the title «War is curable». These two progressive researchers support my view of things to a great extent, at least as far as the last century and the present time are concerned. – It seems implausible enough what is revealed in the research of these two pioneers about the abysmal inhuman intentions of a deceiving and lying power elite and their atrocities and inhumanity. – Even less their and my view of things will be immediately comprehensible: Being human is inwardly calibrated to the good and no trauma can destroy that component.

But if we understand the backgrounds and abysses of these powers, the question also arises as to why we allowed ourselves to be deceived for so long without putting up any stronger resistance. As mentioned at the beginning, I see the beginning of the submission of mankind to the power of the dark forces in a much broader time frame, and date it to the end of the Flood, of which there is no exact dating, even though in many other historical narratives on all continents the global event is reported in a comparable way.

Another remarkable fact is that the end of the Flood coincides with the beginning of the sedentariness of humans and the domestication of plants and animals 9,000 - 12,000 years ago. Settlement, plants and animal breeding have created new social conditions that have proved particularly suitable for the above-mentioned troika to be strategically manipulated by their leader figures. – As far as I understand it, however, we have also declared ourselves ready for this experiment on a higher soul level. – Therefore, it is time to end this experience before it leads to even greater destructive potential. We have to lead the involved dark forces the way back into the light and invite them to repent and involve them in this process.

All prophecies point to the fact that we are in the end time of the dark forces and great upheavals are imminent. They also agree that it depends on each and every one of us, and thus on a certain number of us, that these changes can take a positive and as non-violent a course as possible. This process was described exemplarily and with practical instructions in the The Twelfth Insight of The Celestine Prophecies, a novel by James Redfield. A young Swiss Visionary Christina von Dreien also agrees that if we do not want to destroy ourselves, a large part of all humanity must raise its own vibrational frequency if this shift into a higher dimension of human family should take place on planet Earth.

The vision of peace and harmonious coexistence of all members of the earthly human community must be maintained and passed on to all members of this community.
